Mrs. Anne E. Spofford, of Westerly, is slowly recovering from the effects of a shock.

Schools Reopen.

The schools opened Monday morning, Jan. 17th, after being closed two weeks, owing to the scarlet fever scare. As there were no new cases reported, the health officer for the town of Stonington, deemed it safe to reopen the schools. The attendance is small, however, as the parents of large families thought it safer to keep their children at home for a week longer. At least, Mr. Oscar Bates arrived Saturday from his home in Stamford to be in readiness for the opening of the schools on Monday.

Annual Meeting of Baptist Church.

The annual business meeting of the Baptist church was held Monday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the conference room of the church. OBITUARY.

Mrs. James Strickland. Mrs. Oscar F. Crumb has been notified of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. James Strickland (born Mrs. Dell Smith), at her home at Crocker, Ill. Her death was due to cancer of the stomach, which she had suffered from many months. She was 47 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Strickland were married in Chicago in 1891 and resided in that city until about five years ago, when they moved to Crocker, where Mr. Strickland has since been engaged in the real estate business. Mrs. Strickland was a devoted Christian and a member of the church of God's noblest women. She was a Christian in the truest sense of the word, her life being a model of the highest standard, and her death was in giving pleasure and doing good to others. Her husband was a devoted husband and a devoted father. She was born in the town of Groton, having been born there about twenty-five years ago. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Crumb of Old Mystic, Mrs. Mary Holway of Groton, brother, Mrs. Fanny Welles, widow of Frederick H. Welles, of Groton, Mrs. Albert Thurber, of Groton, and Mrs. Martin Strickland, all of Groton, and William Strickland of New London.

The annual meeting of the Baptist Ladies' Aid society was held Wednesday evening at the residence of Mrs. William D. Beckwith in Smith street. Calvin H. Hoxie, Jr., is slowly recovering from a short time of scarlet fever. He is still under the care of a trained nurse and physician.

Miss Della Gately Becomes Violently Ills—Taken to Norwich Hospital.

C. E. Staples of Colchester, deputy of the Connecticut state, was at the meeting of Mystic Grange on Thursday night and installed the officers. Wednesday night Mr. Staples installed the officers at North Stonington and Grady night at Groton grange. Each grange served a supper to the members and guests after the installation.

The snow has about gone, but the ice in the streets is troublesome.

Miss Della Gately, living alone at Quamboo, was found locked in her apartment Wednesday. Officer Foley was called and forced an entrance to the house, where he found the woman half-dressed and violently insane. She was brought to the hospital and taken care of at the lockup during the night. Owing to the absence of Selectman A. A. Staples, First Selectman H. A. Staples, Jr., and Dr. C. F. Congdon to examine the woman. She was found to be suffering from a severe form of insanity. In the afternoon she was taken to the Norwich State Hospital.

Miss Gately has lived in Mystic many years in the employ of the late Miss Martha Burrows, who died a year ago. Since Mrs. Burrows' death Miss Gately has been supporting herself in the best way she could, selling household articles that she made. She has been a kind-hearted woman, industrious and frugal, and had many friends who are sorry to hear of her sad breakdown.

The little daughter of Capt. John R. Spaford, who took scarlet fever at Old Mystic, is out of danger at her home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Nearly 30,000 beds in London hospitals are daily occupied by the sick and maimed poor.
